

ABE CENTENNIAL SEMINAR SERIES

twenty twenty-three

SPEAKERS

Madison Keller

Product Development Engineer, Printpak

Affiliation to ABE:

UF/ABE Alumni

Drew Scatizzi

Lead Analyst, Duke

Affiliation to ABE:

UF/ABE Alumni

Thursday August 17, 2023

11:00 am

Frazier Rogers Hall - RM. 122

Zoom Link:

go.ufl.edu/abe100august17

UF ABE: The Complete Package

Madison will be discussing her experience in the UF ABE department, how to make the most out of your time on campus, and how to jump into a hands-on industry role straight out of college.

At Printpak, Madison has supported large CPGs with a focus on salty snack and bar packaging. Madison has worked on developing new to market compostable, paper, and all-polyethylene structures for multiple applications and customers. Madison holds both a B.S. and M.S. in Biological Engineering with a focus in Packaging Engineering and Food Science from the University of Florida.

So, It's Time To Leave Frazier Rogers - Now What?!

In this seminar, Drew will talk about how to make the most of your ABE education and UF experience to be successful in private industry. Discover valuable insights, hone essential skills, and secrets to leveraging your academic journey.

Drew is a lead analyst at Duke - looking at how customer side distributed resources such as solar and batteries impact grid-level reliability. He likes to seek out projects that benefit their rural and agricultural customers. Drew also owns a residential inspection business called HomeCheck Sarasota, and he's very active with the UF Alumni Association Gator Clubs.

For more information about our speakers and seminars, visit abe.ufl.edu/100-years/